For Immediate Release: TDECU's Anne Allstott Named Angleton Chamber of Commerce's Volunteer of the Year

(Lake Jackson, TX) — TDECU – Your Credit Union's Angleton Member Center Manager, Anne Allstott, was recently honored by the Angleton Chamber of Commerce as its 2018 Volunteer of the Year. The award was presented to Allstott at the organization's Ninth Annual Awards Luncheon and Chairman's Address at the Pearl Event Center in Angleton, Texas.

The event marked the coming together of the business community to celebrate those moving the Angleton area forward. Allstott's award was presented by The Dow Chemical Company – Texas Operations, and recognizes the deep commitment of time, expertise and energy she devotes to organizations and causes within the Angleton community.

Allstott attributed much of her earning the award to TDECU – Your Credit Union for fostering a strong culture of volunteerism among its employees. "I am so thankful to work for a company like TDECU that allows and encourages me to be involved in the communities we serve," she said.

Allstott continued by encouraging others to get involved in their community chambers of commerce because they provide opportunities not only to volunteer, but also foster professional growth. "They are a key resource for businesses to help them understand what is going on in their community," stated Allstott. "I believe that being involved with an awesome organization like the Greater Angleton Chamber has helped me be more successful in my business efforts."
