The TDECU Board of Directors has elected Elizabeth Killinger to serve as a member of the Board. The election extends Killinger’s service to Houston’s largest credit union and its more than 370,000 members where she has served as an Advisory Board Member since 2019.

In her new role, Killinger will continue to leverage her extensive expertise, proven leadership, and deep community connections to help guide the operations and shape policy for TDECU, a $4.7 billion dollar credit union.

“We are pleased Elizabeth has accepted this opportunity to extend her service to TDECU and our Members. Her expertise in the energy and services industries and in philanthropy will continue to drive TDECU policy and help our Members navigate their financial journeys,” said Dick Smith, TDECU Board Chairman.

Killinger is a native Houstonian and serves as the president of Reliant and NRG Home, which is the largest competitive retail business in Texas and in the US, and provides innovative residential power and gas services to over 5 million customers through multiple brands and channels in North America. Killinger is deeply committed to making a difference for future generations, serving numerous impactful community and education organizations as well as the Greater Houston Partnership (GHP) and Hope Media Group.

Killinger has a bachelor’s degree in Management Information Systems from the University of Houston and attended Houston Baptist University. She enjoys spending time with her family and is passionate about her role as a mother, wife, and homemaker.
